Sigma Gamma Nu Circus Is Tomorrow

Tri Beta To Sponsor Stunt Night

Tri-Beta will sponsor Faculty Stunt Night October 30, at 8:00 p.m. in the Winthrop auditorium.

The theme of the program is based on a radio and television talent show. Mr. F. E. Harrison, of the modern language department, will act as master of ceremonies; and Dr. Harold B. Gilbreth, of the commerce department, will act as emcee.

Featured on the program during the "can-can" are Mr. W. L. Wheeler, of the music department; Mr. Barron Nichols and Mr. H. J. Heyson, of the geography and geology department; Mr. Ralph Barbour, Training school director; Dr. A. D. Edwards, of the sociology department; and Dr. J. D. White, of the history department.

Mrs. Frances St. Clair, of the physical education department, will sing a novelty number, "The Rich Maharah." Mr. and Mrs. Dan Hollis will do a dance, the Charleston.

Nurse Janie Keunemer, of the college infirmary, will appear from time to time; and Mr. J. W. Baker, of the music department, will be on hand to add musical numbers in between acts.

Helping with the props backstage will be Dr. C. A. Haslow, of the chemistry department.

A tap dance, a Spike Jones band, and a quartet are a few of the numbers featured.

The program will also include performances by Dean S. J. McCoy; Miss Sarah Cragwell, home economics department; Dr. J. D. White, classics department; Miss Katherine Adams, health department; Mr. Kenneth Beittel, fine arts department; Mr. L. C. Bender, music department; Miss Lydia Brunden, English department; Miss Louisa Dula, English department; Miss Sadie Goggins, education department; Mr. Emmet Gore, music department; Mr. Edward Leonard, music department; Miss Katherine Prohl, music department; Miss Annie Sevier, English department; Mr. Paul D. Whitener, chemistry department; and Miss Lois Devereaux, music department.

Judges which have been announced are Mr. D. C. Sturgis, Jr., of the commerce department, and Miss Erlene Lynn, assistant dietitian.

Punch and cookies will be served to the faculty after the program.

Joseph Beles is chairman of Faculty Stunt Night.

Speakers Emphasize Place Of Recreation In The Community

A series of speakers have been emphasizing recreation in different phases of the community to the community recreation class, Miss Alice Solo stated.

Mr. Jack Bradford, director of recreation in Rock Hill, explained the recreation in the city, and its services to the community. The program of the Y.M.C.A. and its services to the community were related by Mr. Roy Holmstrom, who is in charge of the Y.M.C.A. here.

Mrs. Boyd Hull, Girl scout director, gave the organization of the Girl Scouts, and their place in the community.

The class has also been on two field trips. They made a trip to Lancaster to visit the Springs Mills park, and see an illustration of industrial recreation. The trip to the Nature Museum showed them the place of the museum in relationship to the community.

Several more trips are to be taken. One of these will be to Charlotte to see a large city, a plan or recreation. The group also plans to attend the North and South Carolina Recreation meeting in Charlotte in November.

Ground Breaking Ceremony

The groundbreaking ceremony for the new Winthrop Training school gymnasium was witnessed Wednesday morning by the above people. Looking on as Ralph Barbour, director of WTS, breaks the ground are W. B. Moore, coach at WTS; K. B. Waters, administration director; J. T. Roddey, trustee; S. J. McCoy, dean; C. L. Cobb, trustee; Dr. Henry R. Sims, president of Winthrop college; and Steve Moore, contractor. Students representing each grade group were also present.

WTS Has Ceremony For Building

Groundbreaking ceremonies for the new Winthrop Training school gymnasium were held Wednesday morning at 10:30 at the site of the proposed new structure at the rear of the Training school building.

Ralph Barbour, director of the Training school, began the work with the same shovel which was used in 1912 to break ground for the present Training school building.

Those who were present for the ceremony were Dr. Henry R. Sims, Dean S. J. McCoy, Mrs. E. G. McCall, president of the P.T.A.; Mr. W. B. Moore, boys athletics director; Mr. R. B. Waters; George Cobb, physical education director; Miss Margaret Anne Moore, student teacher representative; Mr. C. L. Cobb and Mr. J. T. Roddey, members of the College board; and representatives from the various Training School classes.

The new gymnasium, which will cover a 70 by 90 foot radius, is being built at a cost of $31,850, and will adjoint the present Training school building.

It is hoped that the building will be completed by the first of January.

The gymnasium is being built by the Moore Construction Company of Rock Hill.

Make Plans To Fly Home For Holidays

A representative of Eastern Air Lines will be on the second floor of Main building on Tuesday, November 7, from noon until 3 o'clock p.m. to make reservations for students, staff, or faculty members, who are interested in traveling by plane for Thanksgiving or Christmas holidays.

This announcement is being made early so that the ones planning to travel by plane will have the opportunity to arrange their time in such a way that they will be free to see this representative at the set time.

Return Coke Bottles

Students are asked to return empty Coca-Cola bottles to the machines. One Coca-Cola will be put into the machine for each empty bottle. If students expect to keep getting a Coke, they must return the bottles.

Members To Be Initiated

The Newman club Catholic student group, will initiate seven new members October 28. This initiation will be at the student center. Twenty Newman club members will be guests. There will be an initiation program and supper.

New members are Elizabeth Austin, Nina Cambra, Ann Friend, Peggy Murchison, Ann Rumph, Margaret Severson and Mary Lou West.

Officers of the club are Elizabeth Darity, president; Elaine Francis, vice-president; Jean Schmitt, secretary, and Ann Hartigan, treasurer.

Mrs. Alvin Sawright is the student counselor, and the Rev. James Sharpe is chaplain.

French Club Has Meeting

The French club, Le Cercle Français, had its first meeting October 12th, in the music room of Jefferson hall.

The following officers were elected: Mr. Whitaker, president; Harriet Lyons, vice-president; Martha Elmore, secretary; Jackie Truesdale, treasurer; and Willette Westmoreland, social chairman.

Dr. Elizabeth Johnson is advisor for the group.

O'Connell To Give Officials' Ratings

Miss Alice O'Connell will give swimming officials' ratings at a swimming clinic at Converse college, Spartanburg, on November 18.

Miss Freda McDonald, swimming instructor at Converse, is in charge of the clinic. Converse students will swim.

Several Winthrop students, as well as some from other schools, will try for their swimming official's ratings at this time.

WAA Completes Elections

Elections for Winthrop Athletic association representatives have been completed. Margaret Anne Moore, president of W. A. A., announced these girls attend all council meetings, and are the official representatives of the dormitories on the athletic council.

Dormitory representatives are: Drexelale, Jerry Hinson, Margaret Nance, Tod Carl; Town girls, Betty Jean Love; Toddin, Kitty Stuckey.

Also Senior, Hilda Wilson; Hancock, Harriet Lyons; and McCauley, Frances Clements.

Frosh Elect Attendants

Attendants to the May Court were elected by the freshmen at a class meeting Monday night.

The following girls were chosen to represent the freshmen class: Frances Stroman, a two-year com-mercer major from Orangeburg; Yvonne Culp, a home economics major from Waxhaw, N. C.; Eloise McMeekin, majoring in elementary education from Columbia; and Phyllis Herring, a home economics major from Easley.

Phyllis Herring and Eloise McMeekin were winners of first and second places, respectively, in the freshmen beauty contest.

Dr. J. L. Stokes To Deliver Sermon

Dr. J. L. Stokes, of Nashville, Tennessee, will teach the Wesley foundation Sunday school and deliver the morning sermon Sunday, October 29, at St. John's Methodist church.

Dr. Stokes was formerly pastor of St. John's. He now holds the office of secretary of religion on Methodist college campuses.

Senate Names Committee

Miss Katherine Adams, Miss Louisa Dula, Miss Derna Lockhead, Jane Bell, Connie Biddgood, and Barbara Lowe have been named as the Faculty-Student committee of the Senate for the school year 1950-1951 with Dean Kate Glend Hardin acting as chairman of the committee.

The committee is composed of the Dean of Women, the president of the Senate, the president of the Student Government association, one student chosen annually by the Senate, and three faculty or staff members, appointed annually by President Henry Sims from a list of eight suggested by the Senate.

Opera Is Presented

The opera "La Boheme" was given here last night in the College auditorium by the Charles Wagner company. It was the third in Winthrop's concert series.

The leading role of Mimì in Puccini's most popular opera was sung by Laura Castellana, opposite the Rodolphe of Jan Crain. Wagner company. It was the third in Winthrop's concert series.

Henri Murger, the French author who sketched the incidents in the opera's sentimental story, himself lived a sordid life in the Latin quarter of Paris for many years. The story was written about incidents in the lives of his friends.

Murger's episodes have a unity, and realistic charm that is unique in opera.

"La Boheme" has, since its early history, ranked high among the most popular operas of all time, and realistic charm that is unique in opera.

"La Boheme" could always be counted upon to sell the greatest number of tickets, with "Carmen" and "La Traviata" not far behind.

Dr. Weber To Speak In Assembly

Dr. Harold F. Weber, former chief of higher education for the American military government in Korea, will speak to the Winthrop student body at its regular assembly Tuesday on the subject "Our Struggle in Korea."

An educator by profession, Dr. Weber has filled numerous assignments in the United States armed forces, one of these being that of chief of the bureau of higher education in Seoul, Korea.

The speaker will use his experience behind the scenes in the Korean conflict to give the inside story of the war, revealing why we were not better prepared.

Dr. Weber holds an LL.M. degree from the Hamilton college of Law in Chicago. He has also studied at the University of Wisconsin, Northwestern university, Pennsylvania State college, and the University of Kentucky, where he had specialized studies.

Before and since World War II, Dr. Weber has lectured extensively throughout the United States.

Junior Class Elects Court And Senator

May Court attendants for the junior class were elected at a meeting Monday night.

Those chosen were Jamie Boyd, home economics major from Lora; Lettie Harper, from York; Barbara Lowe, a music major from High Point, N. C.; and Marion Wolfe, a sociology major from Greenville.

Jodie Haberland, from Spartanburg, was chosen to serve as a temporary senator.

Parade Will Begin At 2:00

The physical education department's annual circus is scheduled to begin at 2:00 tomorrow with a parade of the main attractions around campus. The ring show is slated for 2:30.

Featured in the parade will be the animals, clowns, several decorated cars, horses, and the College and Training school bands. A parade to proceed through Rock Hill has been planned for tomorrow morning.

Grace Doar will act as ringmaster. Included in the ring show will be horses, clowns, tumbling, modern dance, two folk dance numbers, the Sailors' Hornpipe and La Cucaracha, tap dance routine, and formations of a tent and animals by the Training school band.

Also included will be two animal acts, one consisting of elephants and penguins and the other of giraffes, the ostrich, and the duck. The College band will play during the ring show.

Another attraction of the show will be the bean guessing. A jar of beans will be passed among the spectators during the show, and at its conclusion a prize will be awarded to the spectator guessing the number of beans in the jar most correctly.

The side shows and concession stands will be opened after the ring show. Side shows will include the thin lady, the fat lady, the midgel, the house of horrors, a minstrel, a fishing pond, a guess your weight booth, ball toss, and the Slimee twins.

Concession stands will sell soft drinks, hot dogs, candy, and peanuts.

Students To Convene

Forty Baptist students from Winthrop will leave this afternoon for the state Baptist Student Union convention at Limestone College in Gaffney. Presiding over the B.S.U. convention will be Beth Carville, Winthrop senior and State B. S. U. president. Student representatives from Orangeburg, Greenville, and other colleges will also be present.

Lovely Lee Moore, Winthrop junior, will be present for all the sessions. Outstanding speakers in the Baptist denomination in the state will appear at various points on the program. These men include Rev. J. M. McClain of Orangeburg, Rev. John Ryberg of Columbia, Rev. Nathan Brooks of Greenville, Rev. William F. Ball, Jr., of Belton, and Dr. A. B. Hawkes of Rock Hill.

Coming from outside the state will be Dr. Claude Brooch of Charlotte, N. C., Dr. D. J. Evans of Atlanta, Ga., Miss Emily Lamsdell of China, and Dr. Paul Green of the Diplomatic Service in India.

Several social events will also be featured during the week-end. There will be a luncheon at noon Saturday in the Limestone college. Rev. McClain will have a program on the theme "Building a Christian Home." Friday night a picnic supper will be served by the members of the Gaffney First Baptist church to all the students.

The program has been planned by the Rev. Harold Cole, State B. S. U. secretary and a committee of local B. S. U. secretaries and students.

Music Club To Have Cake Sale

The Music club will have its annual cake sale on Monday, October 30, in Main building, according to an announcement made by Fay Reed, president of the club. The funds from this cake sale go toward a scholarship fund for music students.

Just Evaluatin'

What say we consider how much co-operation there is between the Winthrop faculty and the students? The latter from the week to Campus Town Hall was quite unusual. It certainly isn't often that a faculty member has bothered to comment in this public manner on what concerns the students.

Although we don't always agree with the opinions of the faculty, still it is nice to know they're thinking about us—good or bad. And to have a teacher ask you if maybe she can help you with a personal problem—that's a major headline! Of course, Winthrop has too many girls for the faculty to be concerned over every minor problem. However, so often a girl is falling behind in her studies because she has a problem that needs some adult guidance. To have the advice of an older person might make all the difference in the world.

Turn about is fair play, so the students should remember that the teacher might have had a "big weekend" too—and she doesn't feel any better than you do.

It all boils down to—just a little human kindness. In the European system of education the students only know their teachers from the lectures in large classes. To the hundred. What a disadvantage!—although it may have its advantages. A subject is all the more interesting if aided by the pleasing personality of an attractive teacher. Some of our teachers here go out of their way to know the students and to understand them. We are being taught as teachers to know and understand the whole individual—so maybe some of the faculty members should practice this little art.

There is something done at Davidson which is really a good idea. Faculty and administrative members—lend an ear! Every Sunday afternoon about three of the Davidson faculty members open their homes to the students. Wouldn't that be wonderful? This could be done here. Whether or not it would be financed by the college is not for us to answer. Anyway—we would like to know the "campus families" better. How about it?

It seems as if the faculty is getting all the criticism in this editorial. We certainly don't feel the students are by any means perfect. However, the students get more criticism in editorials as a usual thing—such as a comment on their behavior at artist courses. We thought we'd give them a rest and concentrate on the teachers for a change. The students know their faults and can try to acquire in the seats when we think of our attitudes at various times.

Last week one of my teachers wore the prettiest red dress in class. I was simply enchanted with the pleasing appearance. A blue Monday can really be all right—with a smile from the teacher—and one from the student. So let's try for more cooperation—let's be friends. Hoping for a positive answer!

R.B.

Why Not A Launderette?

A college launderette would certainly be a wonderful addition to Winthrop and would serve a two-fold accomplishment. First, it would provide for a greatly needed service to the students, and second, the College could make a profit from the renting of these machines.

This launderette could be operated on the same order that others have been whereby a small fee could be charged for each time a girl used one of the washing machines. If the College could either buy several machines for the school as a whole and have them situated in some central spot or else equip dormitory with one or possibly two machines, they would soon pay for themselves and the College could then get a profit from them that could be used in turn for the other addition or improvement to the school.

We are aware of the fact that Winthrop has a very efficiently operated laundry on Campus that serves each student. However, there is a definite need for another type of laundry in the form of a launderette that the girls might use. Such articles that the regular laundry would be too rough on.

At present many girls carry clothes to laundrettes here in town. Could not this business be kept right here at the College with the good idea and the girls both reaping benefit from it?

In recent years two letters on this topic have been published in Campus Town Hall with no visible results. If there are any obvious objections to such a plan, couldn't they be brought to light by means of a letter to the students so that they could understand the reason. However, if there are no objections, the starting of plans toward this goal would certainly be appreciated by many students.

Our Hearts Are in the Right Place

Real, honest to goodness, tangible evidence that our hearts are in the right place may be seen walking around in navy and white on the Campus. By this we mean the foreign students and others who are here on scholarships contributed to and sponsored by the students of Winthrop College.

Throughout the year activities are had to obtain funds for the bringing of these students to Winthrop. For example, we're having one tomorrow. Every year, Sigma Gamma Nu sponsors a circus, the profits from which are used to give a scholarship to a deserving person.

In the spring the Winthrop Christian association will sponsor the annual Miss Winthrop contest to choose a student to represent Winthrop at the Azalea festival. They also sponsor a movie at a local theatre and solicit funds from students, faculty, and those who are employed by the college in other capacities.

It's a long time until Spring and the FSSF drive, but we should all be preparing our pockets to give to this foreign student fund. It seems to be generally agreed that the bringing of foreign students to America to study is one way to insure peace. Occasionally a letter is received from one of the foreign students who have been here in the past saying that until she came here she didn't realize what real understanding was.

Every time we see one of the students from far away places we can truthfully say that our nickels and dimes contributed to the FSSF were a good investment.

Come On And Get Educated

Each Tuesday night at 6:45 in the College auditorium, an educational movie is shown and each Tuesday night very few go to see it. Maybe it's a reflection on our so-called intelligence that so few attend and take advantage of this opportunity to see what is going on in the world.

The college goes to some expense to provide these movies for the student body as well as faculty members. However, it seems that the faculty outnumber us at every show. Maybe the term "educational" scares students away. Besides being educational movies these are also entertaining. For instance, you can take a trip to New York City or Timbuctoo through one of the travelogues, or see a horse show or water skiing, or learn how not to have heart trouble. Now it doesn't take much time to go to these movies. They usually last about 45 minutes, but you can learn a lot in 45 minutes, particularly while watching a movie. There's that old statement about a picture is worth a thousand words.

It would be nice if every student would reserve 45 minutes after supper every Tuesday and get educated the easy way by attending the educational movie.

What We Live By

The Johnsonian wants to deserve a reputation for accuracy, thoroughness, and fairness in covering the Winthrop college campus. You will do us a favor if you call our attention to any failure in measuring up to any of these fundamentals of good newspapering.

Casually

By NANCY CHAPMAN

Spring has sprung and fall has fell! All around Campus there are beautiful evidences that it's the season for football games, Weiner roasts, stallo-ween and everything that comes with fall. Indian Summer is here in all its glory and naturally ushers in such things as Thanksgiving holidays and Christmas holidays and these in turn usher in such things as exams, etc., which aren't TOO far away and will come with a sure rapidity.

KURRAY

I'm past the opening paragraph! Who ever named this column "Casually" didn't quite find the appropriate word. They should have called it "Frantically" or something similar.

REAL PROPAGANDA

finds its way into TJ office through such media as the clipboards of the Board of Temperance and especially in Capital Comment of the National Democratic executive committee. These things really are a scream. I have before me one of the Capital Comment bulletins, the first paragraph of which reads: "With the election less than a month away, the Republicans are still carrying on a nervous search for campaign issues." If you ever want a day of riotous fun, just stop by and read some of this stuff.

DR. JARRELL

He does it again! In the December issue of the Atlantic Monthly, Dr. Jarrell will have an article concerning the seven deadly sins. Also hear that he is preparing another book on a phase of Wade Hampton's life.

TJ JUST LOVES

some of the class of '50 who wrote us recently and enclosed a check for a subscription. We heard from Nancy Kendall and Sarah Eleazer who are working in Kingsport, Tenn. on newspapers. Jill Shuler who is with the F.B.I. in Washington. Ruthie Williams who is working in Charleston. Occasionally some of the '50 crowd come back and its mighty good to see them.

This Week

From the President of the Student Government Association

This above all: to thine own self be true, And it must follow, as the night the day, Thou shalt not seek to please any man.

Think about it: read it again! Now take it one phrase at a time. THIS ABOVE ALL—put this in the absolutely highest category. TO THINE OWNSELF BE TRUE—don't tell yourself things which are not true; if you're wrong, admit it to yourself and do better next time. If you're right, admit that too and be happy about it. AND IT MUST FOLLOW AS THE NIGHT THE DAY—It is for every second, minute, and hour of each day. It must be for all time. THOU CANST NOT THEN BE FALSE TO ANY MAN—being constantly true to yourself, you will not be false to others. You will not take possession of things which are not your own, whether they are intellectual materials, clothes, food, money, or other possessions. You will not bear false witness, regardless of whom it concerns. Realize the necessity of honesty to yourself and to your fellowman.

Moody Monthly says it in these words: Be true to yourself at the start, young man. Be true to yourself and God.

Er: you build your house, mark well the spot. Test all the ground and build you not On the sand or the shaking soil.

J. B.

There was a stir as fourteen women and one man proceeded to the altar! Kind Miss She sat on the steps all alone, Enjoying the evening breeze. He came and sat down beside her, And she gave him the vacant stair.

Threatened the sweet young thing: "If you try to kiss me just once more, I'll call my mother."

"Your mother?" interrogated her beau. "Most girls call their father."

"Not me," she demurely replied. "He's not dear!"

THAT'S ALL!

Reply to Letter on Cuts . . .

Time Wasted in Uniform Lines . . .

Request for Painters and Sculptors . . .

Dear Campus Town Hall:

This letter is written in answer to the letter of a faculty member on additional weekends. This faculty member states that the letter of a few weeks ago has "some obvious fallacies . . ." This is probably true. However, the faculty member pointed them out? We don't think so. He, or she, has what we think are "some obvious fallacies." "Grades are not a reliable gauge of accomplishment." This statement may or may not be true, but as grades are the only gauge we as students have to set a standard they must be regarded as an accurate check of knowledge gained.

" . . . grading practices of different professors vary so greatly . . ." It is up to the administration to set the value of a grade. A. B. C. etc. As students we assume that all professors on the faculty are able and capable of grading fairly.

" . . . weekends a reward . . . pretty shallow tie-up." This is probably true for the real scholar, but for the student still aiming for her B.A. it seems hard to deprive her of fun when her work is above average. She is proud of her honor societies and proud to be a member, but these do not make her weekend at Winthrop any less dull compared to one at home.

We agree that weekends should be a part of the whole college program yet we feel that it should not necessarily be a very small part. You have criticized our manner pretty severely yet you have not offered an alternate plan which might be better. I think Winthrop students would be better students with this incentive, and happier students.

Sincerely,

Ann F. Hartigan

PLAN FOR GETTING UNIFORMS

Dear Campus Town Hall:

During the first two or three weeks of this college year, all of the freshmen have received good uniforms from Winthrop. However, there is one custom which has created a great deal of discussion among the students, both freshmen and upperclassmen.

The general opinion seems to be that time spent procuring our uniforms might have been used for more worthy purposes. Some one, would have saved many hours for the organizations, other than the dormitory-call students. Of course, the freshmen seemed to be the ones to get to the uniform room door and hear "That's all for now" and go home to rest after hours of standing.

One suggestive remedy made is to set aside an afternoon for such dormitory hall, with time well announced. This would save some time. Another way would be to call the girls by taps groups, some group having a certain amount of time allotted to it.

The Taper picture-taking went off so well that we feel the "signing-up" method would also be workable.

We certainly hope that a better-organized plan will be put into effect before next year.

Yours truly,

Betty Farlow
Nancy Adams
Mary Beth Coated
Julia Camlin

PAINTERS AND SCULPTORS LECTURE, TOO

Dear Campus Town Hall:

We realize that Winthrop students have a great opportunity to enjoy one of the contributions made by great musicians, singers, and lecturers, but we feel that an even greater appreciation of the culture of the world could be made by presenting artists on the Winthrop campus.

Art has its place beside music and song as a universal means of expression, therefore, an education is not complete until one can understand and appreciate the feeling, thoughts and aspirations of mankind which are transmitted through brush and palette, and hammer and chisel.

We know that lectures of this kind would prove to be stimulating to the art majors, educational to the student, and interesting to the audience as a whole.

We sincerely believe that it would be to the advantage of Winthrop to include artists in the artists' series.

Sincerely,

Marjorie Fleisher

Let's get down to the business of the day without any further to do—I think you'd like it better that way. Right?

SHE GOT IT YESTERDAY!

Teacher: "If you were in the middle of the Atlantic Ocean, facing the North Pole, what would be on your left hand?"

Winthrop Gal: "My engagement ring."

SUCH IS LIFE

Young Musician: "Werren! you engaged to a prowlous young musician!"

Trudy: "Yeah, but he didn't keep his promise."

GO-GETTER

Sue: "You've been trying to get a husband for yourself for years!"

Sal: "That's not true! I've only been trying to get a son-in-law for my mother."

SOME SECURE

He: "Come, let us see."

She: "I can't, I'm wearing my pajamas."

Just imagine if the headlines read, "Flies in her Pajamas."

NOT A W.C. GIRL!

Welf: "What's your name, honey?"

Mrs. Bones: "Mrs. Bones, 331 South Street."

Now don't you dare follow me!

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

Mrs. Jones: "I heard you have a new baby. Is it your fifth?"

Mrs. Bones: "No, my sixth. It's a little boy so I'm calling him Swam."

Mrs. Jones: "Why Swam? What kind of name is that?"

Mrs. Bones: "Well, I read somewhere that every sixth child that is born is an Indian, who can swim."

POPULAR PASTIME

A clergyman, just before the service, was called to the vestible to meet a couple who wanted to be married. He explained that there wasn't time for the ceremony.

"But," he said, "if you will be seated, I'll give you an opportunity at the end of the service to come forward."

The couple agreed, and at the proper moment the clergyman said: "Will those who were to be united in the holy bond of matrimony please come forward."

There was a stir as fourteen women and one man proceeded to the altar!

KIND MIDS

She sat on the steps all alone, Enjoying the evening breeze.

He came and sat down beside her, And she gave him the vacant stair.

Threatened the sweet young thing: "If you try to kiss me just once more, I'll call my mother."

"Your mother?" interrogated her beau. "Most girls call their father."

"Not me," she demurely replied. "He's not dear!"

Jarrell's Article On What Sunday Schools Teach Is Published

By MARY JANE HOWARD

"What do the Sunday Schools Teach?" Dr. Hampton M. Jarrell's thought-provoking answer to this question will appear in the December issue of the "Atlantic Monthly."

Oddly enough, Dr. Jarrell's article, which is excellent, is the result of one of the worst sets of test papers he ever received. Casually, one day, Dr. Jarrell wrote the names of ten Biblical characters on the blackboard and asked his class of thirty-four juniors and seniors to write anything they might know about those characters. The answers not only clarified his suspicion that students as a whole are ignorant of the Bible, but they revealed the amazing extent of this ignorance. One girl stated that Lot was Cain's brother; another, that Lot's son was sacrificed for Jesus.

Why didn't intelligent college students know who Lot and the other nine characters were? What had they learned in fifteen years of Sunday school attendance? Dr. Jarrell decided to do a little detective work. As soon as he began to read some of our Sunday school literature, the mystery was solved. Obviously Sunday school lessons were not dealing with the Bible but with sociology, political science, economics, and international relations, subjects which, in Dr. Jarrell's opinion, are taught better in schools and colleges.

Members To Attend Rally

Thirty-six Wesley foundation members will attend the South Carolina Methodist youth rally tomorrow, October 28, at the Township auditorium in Columbia.

Rev. George Harper of Nashville, Tennessee, will be the afternoon speaker for the occasion. The evening address will be delivered by Rev. Eugene Pencock of Mobile, Alabama.

The Winthrop representatives will leave by chartered bus Saturday afternoon and return the same night. They will be accompanied by Miss Helen Crotwell, director of the Wesley foundation.

Square Dance Clinic To Be On Campus

A high school clinic for boys and girls in square dancing will be held Wednesday, November 29. This clinic will be one of the many activities which will be going on while Mr. Gene Gowing is here.

Invitations are being sent to various high schools asking them to bring as many of their students as they can. It is hoped that a number of schools will send groups to the clinic.

The classes in square dance will be taught by Mr. Gowing. The sessions will be from 10:30-12:30 in the morning, and from 2:30-4:00 in the afternoon.
